

CHINESE FAN PALM

Livistona chinensis

There are many different kinds of fan palms. They all have similar care. This one is native of China to Australia. It is very slow growing but you do need a large space for it.

Bright to medium light is preferred. It does not like full hot south sun.

This plant can be kept slightly moist. It does like humidity. You can set it on a tray of pebbles with water in the tray for humidity. Do not have the plant underwater, just set the plant on top of the pebbles.
