DRACAENA MARGINATA Dragon Tree

Dracaena Marginata is a very easy houseplant. Some have been found growing in the Canary Islands for over a thousand years. This plant needs bright light but no hot sunlight. They can adapt to low light levels too. Let the soil dry slightly between watering. Temperatures are best in the 70-80* range ,with nighttime temps around 60-65*. You can use a good houseplant soil mix. Add a little sand and worm castings to give the plant more natural nourishment. Dracaenas will lose lower leaves as they become older or if the plant becomes to dry.
